

RED FLAGS

High threat situations for bugging:

- Pending or high probability of divorce.
- You are engaged in extensive-long range projects you want kept secret.
- Your company is about to offer public stock.
- You have major purchasing activity pending such as commercial
- Real estate or heavy equipment.
- You have corporate litigation pending as a plaintiff or defendant.
- Your company has a dispute with labor.
- Your company is involved in corporate reorganization.
- You are getting ready to fire key personnel or management.
- You are getting ready or are running for public office.
- Your company's success is dependent upon proprietary trade secrets.
- You are getting ready to submit major bids.

Twelve Red Flags that could be indications of illegal eavesdropping.

Red Flag One: Noticing strange sounds on the telephone line.

Red Flag Two: Others appear to know things they shouldn't.

Red Flag Three: Telephone rings but when you pick it up, no one is there.

Red Flag Four: Interference with radio suddenly appearing.

Red Flag Five: Interference with television suddenly appearing.

Red Flag Six: A strange feeling stuff has been messed with or moved around.

Red Flag Seven: You are often out bided in business by vary small amounts.

Red Flag Eight: Small signs of tampering such as electric outlets and switches.

Red Flag Nine: Strangers in trucks or vans appear to be hanging around.

Red Flag Ten: Someone gives you gifts out of the blue that could contain bugs.

Red Flag Eleven: Repair or inspection people show up that aren't known.

Red Flag Twelve: You suddenly don't trust a third party who has access.